Education

[January, 2015 – April 2015]

Epicodus | Portland, OR

Epicodus is an immersive coding bootcamp that teaches multiple languages and tools, and most importantly the skill of learning how to think like a programmer. Through pair-coding everyday, I learned JavaScript and JQuery, Ruby on Rails, the basics of databases, and the methods of TDD. The most important skill I took away from Epicodus is the ability to find the answers, and become familiar with a new language or tool.

Experience

[April 21, 2015 – November 2015]

Intern | Argentic Software | Portland, OR

As an Intern at Argentic Software, I was responsible for building an internal tool for a client using Python and Django, PostgreSQL, celery, and the Shopify API. Working on a wonderful team, and seeing the process of software creation from beginning to end was an invaluable experience. I learned how to contribute to live projects, understand client needs, and use helpful bug-tracking and version control tools.

[January, 2009 – 2013]

Waitress, Bartender | Tulsa, OK

I worked for a wonderful company for four years as a server and bartender. I gained great communication and customer service skills, as well as a strong sense of teamwork.
